

Trauma- Informed Care

2024 Virtual Self-Care Series: Enhancing Caregivers Resiliency

Childhood trauma is our nations' single most important public health challenge. The high prevalence of trauma in our culture means this topic is important and relevant for all early childhood educators. Trauma Informed Care (TIC) trainings are the first step in working towards a trauma-responsive program that supports ALL children.

TIC, Module 2 of this training series is a continuation of the Trauma Informed Care training series. These two classes focus on your resilience as the foundation to support children, deal with challenging behavior, and enhance job satisfaction.
